WAYNE COUNTY EXECUTIVE EVANS ADOPTS BAGLEY ELEMENTARY SCHOOL
FOR 9th ANNUAL ARISE DETROIT! NEIGHBORHOODS DAY ON AUGUST 1st

DETROIT – Wayne County Executive Warren C. Evans has adopted Detroit’s Bagley Elementary as a part of the 9th Annual ARISE Detroit! Neighborhoods Day. He will be joined by a group of volunteers on Saturday, August 1, 2015 from 9:00 a.m.-11:30 a.m. to garden, clean, paint and prepare the building for the new school year.

“Neighborhoods Day is part of a continued commitment by ARISE Detroit! to improve the conditions in our public schools and neighborhoods,” said Wayne County Executive Evans. “Saturday’s cleanup will contribute to improving the learning environment for the students of Bagley Elementary and make a positive impact on the community that lives in the neighborhood around the school.”

Detroit Public schools submitted a list of 22 schools to be adopted by partners for Neighborhoods Day. Most project requests included painting, planting gardens and flowers, athletic field repairs, plumbing repairs, and boarding up nearby vacant homes.

The 9th Annual ARISE Detroit! Neighborhoods Day attracts thousands of volunteers that participate in events and neighborhood improvement projects throughout the City of Detroit. To learn more visit: www.arisedetroit.org
